

Go to the web site below and click on the pictures and view one very graphic photo of war time atrocities during the war in Afghanistan between the Taliban (Bin Laden's allies) and the Northern Alliance. The wounded Taliban soldier is begging for his life. Why do you the photographer whose picture appeared in the New York Times felt he had to take this picture? What purpose did it serve?

<http://www.pulitzer.org/year/2002/public-service/works/story12.html>